SENATE OPPOSES PROHIBITION REFERENDUM

UNITED PRESS TAKES POLL OF THE SOLONS

INTERVIEWS 70, AND ONLY 16
FAVOR NATIONAL REFERENDUM

SOME OF 16 HAD ALMOST IMPOS-SIBLE RESERVA-
TIONS

By JULIAN SNYDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1926, by United Press)
Washington, May 26.—The senate is overwhelmingly opposed to a national referendum, a poll by the United Press showed today. Of 70 senators interviewed, only 16 favored a referendum and some of the latter had almost impossible reservations.

The poll showed that senators from the wet states of New York, Maryland and New Jersey most heartily favored the referendum. Senators from "half and half" states were uncertain and those from the dry south and west generally opposed the plan.

A few from comparatively dry states expressed the belief that a "fair referendum" might be well to quiet the present wet outburst. They argued that the country would vote dry. They would favor a referendum only if assured everyone would vote. A dozen senators declined to comment on the plan. Six others declared congress could not authorize a referendum without first amending the constitution.

The majority of senators branded arguments for a referendum as "wet hysteria" and "a lot of talk."

"It is a plan to amuse the voters until after elections," commented Senator Borah, Idaho, republican. Senators Cummins, republican, of Iowa, and Swanson, democrat, Virginia, said they had not considered the plan; Goff of West Virginia, author of the dry bill, said: "I will study it," and Senator LaFollette, Wisconsin, republican, remarked: "I have nothing to say."

"No one in my state has urged me to support a referendum," said Senator Watson, republican, Indiana.

Others who declined to comment were Senators Deneen, republican, Illinois; McNary, republican, Oregon; Moses, republican, New Hampshire; Eddie, republican, Nevada; Shortridge, republican, California; Stanfield, republican, Oregon; Means, republican, Colorado, and Randall, democrat, Louisiana.

Those favoring a referendum include Senators Broussard, democrat, Louisiana; Bruce, democrat, Maryland; Cameron, republican, Arizona; Copeland, democrat, New York; Couzens, republican, Michigan; Edge, republican, New Jersey; Edwards, democrat, New Jersey; Johnson, republican, California; Phipps, republican, Colorado; Reed, democrat, Missouri; Reed, republican, Pennsylvania; Robinson, democrat, Arkansas; Wadsworth, republican, New York, and Wheeler, democrat, Montana.

Definitely opposed to the plan are Senators Blease, democrat, South Carolina; Borah, republican, Idaho; Bratton, democrat, New Mexico; Capper, republican, Kansas; Caraway, democrat, Arkansas; Curtis, republican, Kansas; Dill, democrat, Washington; Ernst, republican, Kentucky; Fernald, republican, Maine; Fess, republican, Ohio; George, democrat, Georgia; Glass, democrat, Virginia; Hale, republican, Maine; Harrell, republican, Oklahoma; Harris, democrat, Georgia; Harrison, democrat, Mississippi; Hefflin, democrat, Alabama; Howell, republican, Nebraska; Jones, democrat, New Mexico; Jones, republican, Washington; Hendrick, democrat, Wyoming; King, democrat, Utah; McKellar, democrat, Tennessee; McMasters, republican, South Dakota; Mayfield, democrat, Texas; Norbeck, republican, South Dakota; Norris, republican, Nebraska; Overman, democrat, North Carolina; Pine, republican, Oklahoma; Pittman, democrat, Nevada; Sackett, republican, Kentucky; Shepard, democrat, Texas; Steck, democrat, Iowa; Stephens, democrat, Mississippi; Trammel, democrat, Florida; Walsh, democrat, Montana, and Willis, republican, Ohio.

Senator Shipstead, farmer-laborite, Minnesota, said today he favored the referendum principle, whether applied to prohibition or any other legislation. Senator Schall, republican, Minnesota, also favored a referendum.

FRANCE PLANS CONQUEST OF THE POLAR ZONE

Paris, May 26.—(UP)—France now plans conquest of the Polar zone. Lieutenant Darcs, chief of the French Polar expedition, told the United Press today that he plans to leave Dunkirk at the end of June aboard an ice breaker on a journey to Bergen and thence Spitzbergen, where he will establish a base at the edge of the ice fields.

"We hope to cross the 600 miles to the Pole by automobile sleds, especially constructed for this journey and capable of carrying food, gasoline and supplies for a 3,000 mile trip," he said.

ABD EL KRIM SURRENDERS AT MOROCCO TODAY

ENTERS FRENCH LINES, PLAC-ING SELF UNDER FRENCH
PROTECTION

BRINGS FAMILY WITH HIM, AC-CORDING TO FRENCH
ADVICES

Paris, May 26.—(UP)—Abd El Krim, chief of the Rifians, who for more than two years has been making war on the French and Spanish in Morocco, surrendered tonight. He entered the French lines and placed himself under French protection, bringing his family with him, according to French advices which have been confirmed.

He is expected to reach Taza tonight, there to await the pleasure of the French and Spanish leaders.

Later in the evening the foreign office confirmed the French advices that Krim had surrendered. Krim earlier in the day brought to the French lines prisoners he has been holding and surrendered them to their comrades.

Since the 1926 campaign against Krim opened, he has been weakening in his resistance and during the last week the lines of the forces opposed to him have been aiming to cut off his escape.

A few days ago Krim transmitted to the French the terms on which he was ready to surrender.

Krim's Rifians have given the Spanish and French one of the most difficult problems in warfare of recent years. Fighting with the fury of zealots, comparatively small bands of Rifian troops have harassed and often defeated more than double their number of French or Spanish, and inflicted heavy losses. The Rifians were fighting in a desert country with which they were familiar and under a burning sun which always was their ally against the Europeans.

FLIERS HOP OFF ON THIRD LEG OF THEIR FLIGHT

Charleston, S. C., May 26.—(UP)—Bernardo Duggan, millionaire Argentine sportsman, who is flying from New York to Buenos Aires, hopped off on the third leg of his flight at 6 A. M. eastern standard time today for Miami, Fla. His companions, Eduardo Olivero and Lieutenant Campanelli, Italians, accompanied him. They expected to arrive at Miami at noon.

Idge's executive prohibition order and prohibition in general occurred at the opening of the senate today, being quelled only when Vice President Dawes pleaded for order.

Sen. Edwards, democrat, New Jersey, a member of the beer bloc, started the conflict by reading a newspaper editorial assailing the order by which Coolidge authorized use of state, county and municipal authorities as federal prohibition agents.

It immediately inspired replies from Senators Caraway, democrat, Arkansas; dry; Walsh, democrat, Montana; dry, and Bruce, democrat, Maryland, wet, which threw the senate into disorder.

Meantime in the house Representative Swing, republican, California, defended the order in replying to an attack made on it yesterday by Rep. Curry, republican, California. Swing argued that the order was constitutional and not a transgression on state rights.

TWO CHILDREN JOINED TOGETHER AT ABDOMEN

DOCTORS CONTINUE TO DEBATE OVER ACTION TO TAKE IN SOUTH BEND CASE

BABIES COOING AND LAUGHING
IN HOSPITAL CRIB, SEEM HEALTHY

South Bend, Ind., May 26.—(UP)—Doctors continued to debate over what action to take in the strange case of Lucie and Bessie Medich, the children who were born Saturday night joined together at the abdomen.

Their fate today was problematical. They appeared quite healthy at St. Joseph's hospital, laughing and cooing in the hospital crib, but doctors were fearful they would not live.

Their case is duplicated only once in medical history, it was said today. The children have separate hearts and lungs, an X-Ray disclosed, but their spinal columns are continuous and they have but a single torso between them.

Doctors were somewhat skeptical of an operation, although they announced that a successful one was possible.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Medich, are unable to bear the expense of thorough diagnosis and operations but doctors have volunteered their services. Medich has placed the entire case in the hands of the physicians with permission they do whatever seems best.

INTERNATIONAL LABOR CONFERENCE OPENS AT GENEVA

Geneva, May 26.—(UP)—The international labor conference convened here this morning. Delegates of more than 50 nations were present. The congress is expected to last six or eight weeks.

PACIFISTS IN GENERAL ATTACKED

MADE BUTT OF CRITICISM BY
CHICAGO AMERICAN LEGION
AUXILIARY

Chicago, May 26.—(UP)—Pacifists in general and Jane Addams in particular, were made the objects of attack by speakers before the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Eliza London Shepherd, national president of the Auxiliary, told a group of 250 women last night that "pacifists are the most dangerous menace to the United States." She pleaded for a standing army and navy and for military training in the schools and a universal draft law.

Jane Addams, founder of Chicago's Hull House and one of the most noted social welfare workers in America, was termed "the most dangerous woman in this country," by Perry Watkins, senior vice commander of the Illinois post of the American Legion. Watkins accused Miss Addams of "weakening American resistance" through her work at Hull House.

K. C.'S TO HOLD 1927 CONVENTION AT AUSTIN, DECIDED

SINCLAIR LEWIS AT BREEZY POINT LODGE TODAY

Sinclair Lewis, the author, today is inspecting the woods and lakes of the Brainerd Lake Region preparatory to selecting the spot in which he will spend his summer working days.

Lewis and Rev. Earl Blackwood of Kansas City arrived at Breezy Point Lodge today by automobile. Along the route they viewed the beauties of the northern lake region. From Breezy Point Lodge they were to go back to Sauk Center.

Lewis is gathering material for a book about country preachers and his sojourn in the north woods is for the purpose of writing it.

SINCLAIR LEWIS IN NORTH WOODS

SEEKS CONFIDENCE OF MINNE-SOTA PASTORS AND FISH

Sauk Center, May 26.—(UP)—With rod and tackle and books, Sinclair Lewis, the author, departed for the north woods today to seek to win the confidence of Minnesota pastors and fish.

The rod and tackle will be used on the fish. That is the principal purpose of Lewis' jaunt to the wild lake region. When he is not fishing or interviewing pastors, he will try to do some writing.

While posing as a book agent, Lewis hopes to win the confidence of country preachers of Minnesota and turn their mental processes inside out for material for his book.

"Main Street," otherwise Sauk Center, got only a glimpse of Lewis, when he arrived Monday at the home of his father, Dr. E. J. Lewis.

The author is accompanied by the Rev. Carl Blackman of Kansas City.

RAIL HEAD IN TOUR OF THE ARROWHEAD AREA

Duluth, May 26.—(UP)—A two-days' tour of the Arrowhead district of northern Minnesota, a tour which had its objective in determining the possibilities of the country as a natural summer playground, started from here today.

In the party making the tour was Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, several officials of the road and a group of local business men. They plan to make a two-days' trip through the pine woods country.

Cities to be touched along the route includes Ely, Tower and Hibbing. Part of the trail is along the Mesaba iron range.

MODERNISTS WIN FIRST TILT

BAPTISTS ARGUE WITH FUNDA-
MENTALISTS AT CON-VENTION

Washington, May 26.—(UP)—Modernists won the first tilt against fundamentalists in the Northern Baptist convention here today. Without debate the convention threw out the so-called Seattle amendment supported by fundamentalists which required immersion for membership in Baptist churches, and which would ban from the convention the Park Avenue Baptist church of New York and other modernist churches.

100 BODIES RECOVERED IN JAPANESE ERUPTION

Tokio, May 26.—(UP)—The latest official report from Hokkaido district, devastated by eruption of Mount Tokachi, said 100 bodies have been recovered, that 20 of the survivors were seriously injured and 200 slightly hurt.

Relief work is being carried on in the zone where Red Cross workers and troops are clearing up the situation. The eruptions have subsided today.

IN IDENTIFIED AS
MRS. RING

IDENTITY ESTABLISHED BY THE MOTHER OF DROWNED
WOMAN

Ellsworth, Wis., May 26.—(UP)—The search for Louis L. Ring, Minneapolis business man, was renewed today following the identification of the woman whose body was taken from Lake Pepin a month ago as Mrs. Ring.

The identification was made by the mother of Mrs. Ring, Mrs. Phillip Swetzer, from photographs taken of the dead woman before she was buried in Potter's Field here. Mrs. Ring had been missing since April 21.

Ring disappeared at the same time. The only trace of him was his abandoned automobile, found near the shore of Big Lake, Minn. Scores of men dragged the lake for two days for his body without success. A letter he sent to his wife's parents was the only clue.

The letter recited that Mrs. Ring left home and that Ring believed she might be at the home of her parents. The letter said Ring had quarreled with his wife and she had asked for her freedom. Police learned from Minneapolis neighbors that the two had quarreled violently the night before they disappeared.

Coroner George Hoyer has expressed the belief that Mrs. Ring was murdered. Marks of strangulation were found on her throat and the condition of her lungs precluded drowning. Her body was found at the lake by a fisherman. She was clad only in a nightgown.

Mrs. Ring's body is to be exhumed today or tomorrow. Final identification then will be made and the body will be removed to Neenah, Wis., on request of the mother for reburial.

PREPARE FOR WORDLESS PRAYER

RELIGIOUS GATHERING IN TAM-
ARACK GROVE NEXT TUESDAY

Tamarack, Minn., May 23.—(UP)—The leader of the one hour wordless prayer to be held in a wooded grove near here at 10 A. M. Tuesday went about his preparations today with new happiness.

Two children, missing for six years, have been restored to the family of Vernon Ewing, the Tamarack optometrist, sponsor of the prayer. They were Mrs. Ewing's by a former marriage, but were separated from her six years ago. Sunday, by accident, they were found and brought back to the family circle.

The family now numbers nine, Mr. and Mrs. Ewing, six girls and one boy. Parents and children will be among those gathered in the grove, supplicating for divine recognition.

The quiet grove does not seem like the setting for what amounts to a religious crusade. Tall poplars, whose branches intertwine, grow everywhere. But from their cool shade the pilgrims will emerge into a great circle, sufficiently large for a thousand persons. Here the prayer will be held.

Ewing and his children have cleared great quantities of brush from the prayer circle and heaped it into small piles to afford firewood for those who wish to cook their meals in the open of a Minnesota woods.

GOV. DONAHEY AGAIN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Paris, May 26.—(UP)—Abd El Krim, who has made war against the French and Spanish in Morocco for more than two years, will surrender tonight, according to dispatches from Fez, Morocco, which said that the word was officially confirmed there.

PROHIBITION BATTLE OPENS IN MINNESOTA

GAGE OF FIGHT IS TOSSED INTO THE RING BY BOTH SIDES

WETS SEEK STATEWIDE REFER-
ENDUM, DRYS SCAN
CANDIDATES

By WILLIAM E. HALLBERG
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
St. Paul, May 26.—(UP)—The prohibition battle has opened in Minnesota with the gage of battle tossed by both wets and drys.

Captain William H. Slayton, managing director of the Association Against Prohibition Amendment, has accepted the challenge of F. Scott McBride, national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League and the battle field will be the spring primaries and fall general election.

While on one hand the Minnesota Anti-Saloon League is preparing to fight the election of any candidates having the least suspicion of moistness, anti-prohibition forces are making ready for an attempt to obtain a state referendum on light wines and beer to be held in conjunction with the fall general election.

A great deal of the battle will center around the primary election, now little more than three weeks distant, with each side attempting to gain an advantage by the nomination of candidates favorable to their cause.

Captain Slayton fired the first shot of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment with an address at an informal dinner Tuesday night, in which he called for a united effort against prohibition.

"You believe you are citizens of Minnesota and you are justly proud of your state," he said, "but all lines have been wiped out by prohibition. You are now subjects of the Anti-Saloon League. I read in your newspapers that McBride says you shall not have a referendum in Minnesota on the wet and dry issue."

Captain Slayton recited that when Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon called on General Lincoln C. Andrews to take over the enforcement of prohibition, the general replied, according to Washington gossip that he did not believe in the law.

"That does not make any difference," Secretary Mellon replied, according to Slayton. "The law is on the statute books and I think you are the man to enforce it."

Of Minnesota's delegation in congress, Captain Slayton said, "It is one of the rottenest bunches of congressmen."

The visits within a few days of McBride and Slayton were precipitated by the approach of the primary election. Capt. Slayton came because prohibition had been idling along in the state, insofar as becoming an issue. McBride came to try to keep it that way.

St. Paul, May 26.—Minnesota wets are ready for their attempt to obtain a state referendum on modification of the prohibition act.

Rep. John McDonough, state representative from St. Paul, will introduce into the next legislature a bill providing for the referendum to be held in connection with either the 1928 primary or the general election.

However, other wets are trying to arouse sentiment favoring a referendum in conjunction with the fall general election this year.

LIGHTNING HIT SEVERAL FARM HOMES NEARBY

ROADS IMPASSABLE, HIGHWAY AND RAILROAD BRIDGES
WASHED OUT

DEPTH OF 4 FEET OF WATER IS REPORTED IN THE LOWLANDS

Prescott, Wis., May 26.—(UP)—Transportation and communication still were paralyzed today in an eight mile radius of eastern central Minnesota which was struck by a terrific windstorm, cloudburst and electrical storm Tuesday night.

The town of Afton, fourteen miles northeast of here, was the hardest hit. There the wind assumed the proportions of a cyclone and was combined with a cloudburst which covered the surrounding countryside with water. Lightning struck several farm homes, but no lives were lost.

Attempts are being made to get into communication with Afton. Roads in that direction are impassable, highway and railroad bridges are reported washed out and telephone and telegraph lines are down.

Though rain fell and a heavy wind blew north of Afton, little damage was reported from Stillwater, Minn., Hudson, Wis., and River Falls. The rainfall was light here and none at all was reported from the south, both in Wisconsin and in southern Minnesota.

North of here in the cloudburst zone, water was several inches deep for an hour between 8 and 9 P. M. Tuesday while the rain was pouring. In some places, a depth of four feet was reported but that was in hollows and lowlands.

CUT OFF FROM COMMUNICATION

St. Paul, May 26.—The town of Afton, Minn., 20 miles southeast of St. Paul, was cut off from communication with the outside world today as the result of a terrific wind and electrical storm.

The same storm struck Prescott, Wis., five miles from Afton, but not as severely and beyond the uprooting of trees, breaking of glass and the like, no serious damage was reported there. But the situation at Afton was not known.

Reports reaching here said that all wires into Afton had been blown down, railroad and highway bridges had been washed away and roads were impassable. Attempts were made to reach the community.

Washouts of bridges and railroad tracks and thousands of dollars of other damage were left today in the wake of a cloudburst which spread ruin in and around Afton, Minn., in the St. Croix River Valley.

The cloudburst was accompanied by a miniature cyclone and a heavy electrical display. The storms isolated Afton, leaving it cut off from communication both by wire and by highway. However, newspapermen reached the village and learned the extent of damage.

Six bridges were washed out, 300 feet of railroad track on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad were undermined, and damage of $20,000 or more to highways made them impassable except by foot.

Traffic on the Stillwater-Hastings branch of the St. Paul railroad was suspended as a result of the storm and probably will not be resumed for two days.

Farm machinery left in fields was mired, foundations of homes and business houses were ruined, farm buildings were blown away by the wind and lesser damage was done.

Between 8 and 9 P. M. Tuesday, the storm raged, flooding roads and hollows while heavy gales blew and lightning flashed.

Red Wing, Minn., May 26.—The death of Mrs. Dora Larson, aged 65 years, at Wilson, Wis., when she was struck by lightning, was reported today in a message to her daughters, Mrs. William Hagib and Mrs. Clara Zibbe of Red Wing.

The message said Mrs. Larson was killed when her farm home near Wilson was hit by the bolt during the storm which raged Tuesday evening.

Seven daughters and three sons survive Mrs. Larson.

provements at Vacation
Resort

A large crowd greeted the officers of the Alpha Chapter, O. E. S. Monday evening at their regular meeting, and listened with interest to the vivid and lengthy report of the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Ethel Forsberg, of the 48th annual session of Grand Chapter of Minnesota which convened in Minneapolis, May 12 and 13.

Mrs. Minnie Paine, past Worthy Grand Matron who is enjoying a vacation at Cinsoam resort on Gull Lake was in attendance, and as she has been an acquaintance, and friend of Alpha Chapter many years, her presence was much enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Cadwell and Mr. and Mrs. Skillman of Cinsoam, who are also past Matrons and past Patrons of city chapters reported the work being done at Cinsoam club, including the building of a large tennis court, and fixing picnicking grounds with fire places, and stating that meals were also served for Masons and members of Eastern Star Order.

After the regular business meeting, those who wished to play cards adjourned to the parlors. The committee had been very busy in these quarters, and a large frappe booth was prettily decorated from which the Misses Catherine Stein and Helen Templeton served delicious frappes and wafers. Huge vases of lilacs and sweet jessamine were artistically displayed in other parts of the room. Those wishing to dance, adjourned to the newly decorated hall across, formerly known as the Iron Exchange hall, which is to be leased by the Masons and included in their spacious quarters.

The Merrymakers played the latest dance music until midnight, and the room was well filled by the members of the O. E. S. and their escorts; Masons and ladies; and members of the Roosevelt Chapter, order DeMolay and their ladies. The party is considered one of the most enjoyable affairs the Alpha Chapter has ever held, and much credit is due to the committee in charge.

KEEPS PRINTERS HAPPY

John C. Daley

John C. Daley, superintendent of the Union Printers Home, who appears in his proper character in the International Typographical Union's motion picture, "His Brother's Keeper," which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre here, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 1 and 2, has been in charge of the Home for more than twelve years and has had an important part in making the institution a model one.

It is axiomatic that the traveling man is very exacting about food and accommodations. Most residents of the Printers Home have traveled extensively and they have quite definite ideas about living comfort. Only the choicest of foodstuffs are served on the Home tables.

"The task to which we give most concern," said Mr. Daley recently, "is that of keeping Home residents in good spirits. Games, entertainments and our extensive library help greatly in that connection. Each resident is treated as a hotel guest might expect to be treated. I believe that we have been quite successful in eliminating the 'institutional' atmosphere here. The Home is in no sense a charity institution, you know. Each resident has paid for his privileges in union dues and loyalty."

The union's motion picture includes a tour of the Printers Home, which is maintained by the International Union as a sanctuary for old printers and a sanatorium for treatment of diseases, especially of tuberculosis.

Former Banker Sned
Sioux Falls, S. D.—A judgment of $5,700 was returned against Fred W. Schultz, former vice president of the closed First State bank, who was found guilty of alleged embezzlement and fraud. St. Paul—A 20-year-term in the Stillwater penitentiary is faced by William Bauer, St. Paul attorney, found guilty of first degree forgery, by a jury. Commitment was delayed for one week to allow him to arrange his business affairs. Bauer was charged with having falsely certified to an acknowledgement of a mortgage. He pleaded not guilty, but a jury returned an unfavorable verdict in 45 minutes.

The Modern Miracle Dahlias

THE STATELY DAHLIA SHOULD HAVE A PLACE IN EVERY GARDEN

No garden is complete nowadays without a display of dahlias. This plant is one of the modern miracles of skilled horticulture, a tribute to the art of the hybridizer who has produced gorgeous creations ten inches across in dazzling colors. The crossing of the various types has, in a measure, blotted out the old-time class lines and the finest types are now hybrids of the small flowered cactus with the huge, peony flowered types and others into loose wide petaled forms as big as one's head.

Dahlia plants can be secured from growers all this month and these plants grown from cuttings give even better results than plants grown from tubers. The dahlia, we now know from study, is better planted in June than earlier in the season as was the custom for many years under the belief that it must be started early in order to bloom.

Bloom, which is sometimes so shy in the dahlia family as to discourage a gardener into giving them up, is dependent upon maintaining steady growth. If the dahlia suffers a check in its summer growth due to dry weather and lack of water, the stem turns woody and there will be no flowers worth mentioning. We now know that the proper treatment in such a case is to cut it down and force new growth from the base of the stems if we are to have good flowers.

Moisture it must have at the roots while it revels in hot sun on its head. The most successful growers plant their dahlias in depressions in the soil which make it an easy matter to fill this basin of earth with the dahlia in its center with water which cannot escape on the surrounding surface of the soil but must soak down to the thirsty roots of the plant.

It is best to confine the dahlia to one main stem to a plant instead of permitting a cluster of stems which the tubers normally will send up. The modern dahlia grows seven or eight feet tall under good cultivation and stout stakes must be at hand to tie it to, setting the stakes firmly in the ground before the dahlia is planted.

Waves Play Havoc

Seasickness raised havoc with production schedules when Director George Hill's company put out to sea on a sailing ship for the making of scenes for "The Barrier," the motion picture from Rex Beach's famous Alaskan story, which will be seen at the Lyceum theatre on Thursday and Friday. Not one of the company escaped it but some wonderful storm scenes were obtained nevertheless.

Comedy Role For Norma Talmadge in "Kiki"

Norma Talmadge, in the title role of "Kiki," coming to the New Park next Saturday, Sunday and Monday, reveals herself in a new light—that of a comedienne. She is supported by noted players, including Ronald Colman, Gertrude Astor, Marc MacDermot, George K. Arthur, Mack Swain, Erwin Connelly, Frankie Darro and William Orlamond.

Luck played a big part in the life of Kiki, a Paris street gamine, but she had to fight for what she got. Battling against odds, the waif did not hesitate to resort to all sorts of tricks in her efforts to overcome poverty and reach the estate of a "great lady."

Gene Stratton-Porter's "Keeper of the Bees" at the Lyceum

Nothing in recent years has so held the attention and intrigued the imagination as the screen version of "The Keeper of the Bees," Gene Stratton-Porter's famous novel which appeared in McCall's Magazine recently and which reaches the silver sheet by way of the skilful direction of Leo Meehan, son-in-law of the noted novelist. "The Keeper of the Bees," is showing at the Lyceum theatre last time tonight, and in addition to other high spots of interest it contains in the cast, Mrs. Porter's granddaughter, Gene Stratton Monroe, who was the original of the "Little Scout" character. See it tonight.

The local legion post has received a number of German war trophies and are now at the legion club rooms in the Juel block and composed of two machine guns, rifles, bayonets and shells.

The drum and bugle corp have received their new trousers, belts and ties and will be out on Decoration day in full force.

Over ten new members joined the post since the last meeting and the membership now is 165.

A committee on the Fourth of July celebration are looking up plans for that day.

A Tough Situation

"My wife and four children were dependent on me for their living. My stomach and liver trouble of five years had made me despondent, as no medicine seemed to help me, and I was gradually wasting away. It was a tough situation. My cousin in Columbus wrote me about having taken MAYR'S and advised me to try it. I am now feeling better than for fifteen years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere. —Adv.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

A SOUTHERN newspaper has advanced eight reasons why newspaper advertising is worth the money paid for it, why it produces results, why it is so effective. There are many other reasons, but we'll mention the southern editor's eight points as follows:

Newspaper reading is a universal daily habit; newspaper advertising, therefore, reaches each day virtually all who buy.

Newspaper advertising is the life blood of local trade because it touches all consumer sources in every community. It gives the national advertiser the same opportunity for complete consumer appeal in any locality.

Newspaper advertising cuts selling costs because it entails no waste in locality or circulation. Manufacturers use it to cover markets where it is profitable to do business.

Newspaper advertising insures quick, thorough and economical dealer distribution and dealer good-will, because retailers are willing to sell products advertised direct to their own consumers.

Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers to tell where their products may be bought.

Newspaper advertising can be started or stopped over night, can be prepared between days to meet certain developments and obtain immediate results.

Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers to check advertising results and costs in every market which they enter.

Newspaper advertising costs less than any other kind.

The merchant or other business man who is not taking advantage of the opportunities offered by newspaper advertising to boost his business now will be facing readjustment problems when his competitor is back on a normal business plane.

HERE'S CONVENTION WORTH GETTING

HERE'S a convention worth getting, that of the Fifteenth District, Land O' Lakes creameries. They will meet on June 3 at Little Falls. Our Chamber of Commerce should extend the district association an invitation to meet at Brainerd next year. The district association comprises creameries in the counties of Morrison, Crow Wing, St. Louis, Aitkin, Cass, Carleton, Hubbard, Beltrami, Koochiching, Itasca, Lake, Cook and the northern end of Mille Lacs.

Little Falls furnishes the members a complimentary luncheon at the Elks club at the noon hour. The convention has its session at 10 o'clock in the morning.

John Brandt, president of the Land O' Lakes, Inc., will be the speaker of the day. He is an authority on creamery affairs and is a popular farm speaker. Other speakers will be H. F. Meyer, manager of the butter sales department, and A. H. Nelson, field manager of the district.

The Farmers' Cooperative Creamery, 315 South Broadway, is a member of the district association and will send as delegates its officers and entire board of directors. The buttermaker will go too if he can get away. These delegates will no doubt be glad to join with the Chamber of Commerce in extending an invitation to the district association to meet at Brainerd next June.

EMPLOYE OWNERSHIP

MORE and more is the ownership of great corporations and even financial institutions passing into the hands of employees, and there is resulting a gradual evolution to a higher stage of cooperative society.

Here is one single fact to prove this statement: 16,358 employees of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, recently became holders of common stock valued at $38,000,000—next largest owners in this property to John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The Northwestern Bell Telephone Company is another example. About every employee of the company has either bought and paid for stock, or is buying more on installments and only recently the company put out an issue of stock for public subscription. It was bought up so quickly that it would make you dizzy to figure it out. Over-subscribed several times, all purchasers were allotted a percentage of the shares they sought to buy.

The parent company, known as the American Telegraph & Telephone company, recently announced another large issue of stock, which was mentioned in THE DISPATCH New York stock market reports.

RAILWAY TAXES COMPARED

IN 1925, railway taxes again exceeded the amount paid by the roads in dividends to their stockholders, according to figures just made public by the Interstate Commerce Commission. For the Class I carriers, 1925 taxes amounted to $358,475,479, while the dividends paid from income and surplus by the same roads amounted to $342,768,742.

For every dollar paid out in dividends by the Class I railroads in the fiscal year 1911, these roads paid the tax collector 25 cents. For every dollar paid out in dividends by the Class I railroads in 1925, these roads paid the tax collector $1.05. The tax collector gets more money from the railways than do the owners of the property—the stockholders.

THE Earl Carroll-Joyce Hawley bath tub incident continues to drag its length along in the New York courts. It seems that the wine party sponsored by the theatrical manager did everything except sing "Sweet Adeline."

INDIANS are reported to have captured a 175 pound sturgeon in White Earth Lake. The fish was a "rock-nosed" sturgeon and the Indians had to use an ax after getting the huge fish into shallow waters.

TAXPAYERS are flooding the offices of the county treasurer and paying either half or the whole payment. Taxes become delinquent after June 1 and incur a penalty.

THE next development in placing lake property on the market is establishing many real estate offices in Brainerd, gateway to the 10,000 lakes.

Federal Oil Conservation Board Set Up by President Coolidge Working in Co-operation With Oil Industry on a Monumental Task.

By JUDSON C. WELLIVER

WHEN President Coolidge designated four members of his Cabinet as the Federal Oil Conservation Board, to investigate and report on the oil industry, he started something of first importance and widest interest. It now develops that a sweeping and thorough survey of the whole oil industry of this country and of the world, its present position and future possibilities, is to be produced. It will be the most comprehensive work of the kind ever undertaken.

Thanks to the fine co-operation between the Conservation Board and the oil industry, there is now assurance that the report will be of great value to the industry, both in this country and throughout the world. Since the war, few industrial subjects have been of wider interest than the supply of petroleum. Every continent and nearly all countries have been the scenes of active search for petroleum; while at the same time scientists and technologists have been redoubling their efforts to insure larger recoveries of oil from the earth, its more complete refinement, and its better utilization. Instead of conducting an inquiry, the Conservation Board has undertaken to bring together all the enormous mass of information which is essential to understanding and dealing with the problem of supplying motor fuel and lubricants. It is expected the board's report will comprise three volumes. The first, dealing with the development and present status of the industry in this country, will cover processes, methods, and relations between the industry and the state and federal governments. It will consider the various regulatory measures that have been applied, and will attempt to appraise them, to determine what have been useful and what have not, and to indicate whether any new policies or methods in this respect are desirable. The international aspects of petroleum will be dealt with in the second volume. America was the pioneer in this industry, which has been from the beginning predominantly American. Much the greater part of the world's petroleum is drawn from the United States. Considerable quantities of both petroleum and its products are exported, and large quantities of crude petroleum are imported. American interests are rapidly reaching into foreign areas for supplies of crude and markets for its products. Great investments in these foreign enterprises constitute an increasing problem in international relations. Because of American leadership and domination of the industry, an enormous collateral business has grown up, supplying machinery and equipment for the oil wells, pipelines, refineries and marketing organizations of other countries.

A third section of the report will deal with possible substitutes for petroleum products, especially in internal combustion engines, which may be developed by the technicians and the chemists.

There are enormous latent resources of petroleum in the shale deposits, and the survey will endeavor to determine whether coal and the shales can be economically utilized as sources of motor fuel. Oil is produced to a considerable extent from shales in Scotland, and many believe the rich shale deposits in this country will be the next source of much of our oil. The whole question of reducing the shales will be examined thoroughly.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"THE CUSTOMER IS ALWAYS RIGHT"

This principle of trade has been adopted by almost every big department store throughout America. In cases of dispute between the seller and the customer it is assumed that the customer is right, because "a satisfied customer is always the best advertisement."

But the customer is not always right and no such instructions to the sales force will ever make them right.

The customer is never right in assuming superiority over the sales person. America knows no distinctions except those of character. No silk or fur has ever yet been found that was capable of making the customer better than the clerk.

The customer is never right in making imperious demands. Being in possession of purchasing power implies no right to be arrogant, ill-natured, censorious, impatient or sarcastic.

The customer is never right in assuming that a sales person is under obligation to accept insults because he is paid for clerking. Many a quiet woman, in her quiet poise and modest behavior under criticism has proved herself superior to the customer who has given vent to petulance, irritability and temper.

The customer is never right in causing the firm unnecessary expense, trouble, anxiety, labor or pains that could be avoided by thoughtfulness on the part of the customer.

The customer is never right in asking that the dealer sell at a loss, render service without compensation, wait for payment after the time agreed upon, or surrender his principles for the sake of holding his trade.

The customer is never right in trying to put something over on the help that he would not try to put over on the boss.

The customer is never right because he is the customer.

Mrs. Mary E. Durand began as a telegraph operator at the age of 15 at Collins, Ohio, as an employee of the old Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad, now the New York Central. Since then she has seen service, always over the Western Union wires, in Oberlin, Ohio, where she was office manager, in Monroeville, Ohio, Sandusky, Ohio, and Cleveland, Ohio. Four years ago she refused to accept a pension

Phrases That Have Been Worn "Ragged"

The initiative faculty so noticeable in children is responsible for the ease with which a phrase often half understood spreads through the community. Thus the words "psychological moment," which as a joke were originally tolerable, have been used in season and out of season until the repetition is unbearable.

To some extent the phrase is illiterate, for if translated out of Greek it means "the study of the mind moment." What Oscar Wilde intended his character to say was the critical, right, suitable or opportune moment—no more than that. "Psychological" is not the synonym for any of these terms.

Another silly phrase which has caught the fancy of our grown-up children is, "I had a brain wave," when all that is meant is, "It suddenly occurred to me." This is oftentimes used by those who know little or nothing about the brain or about waves. There is a third or fourth-rate type of mind which rejoices in phrases and proverbs such as "the aching void," "the better the day the better the deed," and other superficial non-sequiturs.—D. Fraser Harris in the Contemporary Review, London (Living Age).

WHAT MY NEIGHBOR SAYS

Is of Interest to Brainerd Folks

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Brainerd resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Peter Paulson, 402 Oak St., W., says: "I slipped and wrenched my back. For several days I was all in and could hardly take care of my work. My kidneys acted too frequently and I had no ambition to do anything. I read about Doan's Pills and was led to try them. They soon relieved me."

A FEW YEARS LATER Mr. Paulson added: "Doan's Pills cured me of kidney trouble. I have had no return of the complaint since."

Emerald in Perfect*Form Hard to Find

The real emerald, which few are able to recognize, is the green form of the mineral beryl. The name emerald has come to designate later various green stones, such as the Brazilian tourmaline, olivine and garnet. The true emerald is of course superior in value and quality to these stones.

The chief reason for the great value attached to the emerald is the fact that there is a big demand for the stone and a very small supply. The emerald has become a favorite engagement ring stone. A beautiful arrangement has been effected by setting a diamond and emerald side by side in an engagement ring.

Perfect stones are very scarce. Many emeralds contain small cracks and foreign matter which tend to make them dull. Of course perfect large stones are the rarest, and they are therefore very expensive. One of the largest known to exist is the property of the duke of Devonshire. This famous stone is two inches across and weighs almost nine ounces. Such stones are almost priceless.

There are only two real sources of supply of emerald at present. Most of them come from South America, where they are mined in the Andes mountains. Another source of supply is Siberia, but since the war Siberia has not furnished many of these stones to the world. Emeralds never are found in gravel, like diamonds, rubies and sapphires. They always are imbedded in rock formations.

The sea green aquamarine has been mistaken at times for the emerald. As a matter of fact it has the same mineral composition as the emerald. The pale blue and sea-green shades take their name from the color of the seas. Of course, the aquamarine is not so rare, nor so much in demand, as the emerald.

Few stones are as popular as the emerald. It is the only stone that rivals the diamond in favor. Its high value is due as much to its beauty as to its scarcity.

Life of Oil Wells

The bureau of mines says that the average life of oil wells depends upon the location. Following are some computations: Bartlesville field, Oklahoma, 13 to 15 years; northern Texas and Louisiana with the exception of those of the Ranger, Towell and Mexia fields, 15 to 20 years; southeastern Ohio, 10 to 15 years; San Joaquin valley, California, 20 to 25 years; Appalachian sections of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, 20 to 25 years. It must be remembered that the average life of an oil well is quite variable. The rate of development is very important; rapid drilling and rapid production will lessen the life, while gradual drilling and gradual production will lengthen the life. New methods of recovery and other things enter into it.

Where's That Jones?

Hunting for Jones in the telephone directory is one of the national sports of Wales, judging by remarks made by Alderman Cornelius Roberts at Pwllheli town council. It was almost impossible to find a number when the whole of North Wales was compiled in one district, he said. If a subscriber wanted to find a Jones he would have to go through all the Jones in North Wales before he could find the one he wanted. Councillor Josiah Williams said he knew of a medical man who failed to find the number of a patient named Jones, although he spent some hours looking for it. It was agreed to urge the telephone authorities to arrange that towns and urban areas should be separate districts in the directory.—London Mail.

Holland Honors Great Men

Holland has paid warm tributes to two of her sons—H. R. Berlage, famous architect, who celebrated his seventieth birthday, and Prof. Kamerlingh Onnes, scientist, who died at the age of seventy-two years. Mr. Berlage was not only architect of the exchange building in Amsterdam—a splendid structure—but has contributed much more toward the renaissance of Dutch architecture. The Netherlands scientific world mourns Prof. Kamerlingh Onnes, who became famous by the establishment of the cryogen laboratory at Leyden and by his discoveries regarding the liquefying of helium. His laboratory had become a center for scientific research work.

Diet's Effect on Stature

Dr. Victor G. Hesler, director in the Far East of the international health board of the Rockefeller foundation, has been convinced of the claims made by the Japanese Institute of Nutrition that a certain flour made from fish powder actually does increase stature. The flour is made from cooked and boned fish. Strangely enough, it is an American chemical manufactured by product, and it is thought it will correct short stature that has been produced by an unbalanced diet over a long period of years.

Extending Reindeer Herds

Alaskan Eskimos will be employed by the Danish government to instruct natives of Greenland in the care of reindeer. That government is making an effort to establish the reindeer industry in Greenland, evidently prompted by the remarkable success of the herds in Alaska since their introduction in 1891 by the Interior department, bureau of education. The application for permission to employ Alaskan natives was made through the Danish consulate in Seattle.

The Weakness of Cornelia

By H. IRVING KING

MRS. CORNELIA WALTON was a business woman. There was not a better financial juggler in the country. High finance had made massed attacks upon her and had been repulsed with laughter. One of her favorite methods of increasing her store was to get hold of some piece of property, or block of stock, which some business man was going to want very much and then when the time of his want came, hold him up.

There was that little single-track railroad she had out West. She had bought it for a song; it had not paid for years, and there was no prospect that it ever would pay. She had held it four years now at a dead loss. Some of the Wall street crowd laughed when the widow purchased the Glendale and Hyker's Falls railroad; but the wise ones shook their heads and wondered "what old Cornelia was up to now." That road was a specimen; of late she had had several nibbles for it.

Mrs. Walton had only one weakness—that weakness was her daughter, Rosalie. She humored Rosalie in every way and would have spoiled her, had it been possible to spoil such a nice girl. So when Rosalie wanted to join the Moncreiff girls, her former schoolmates, in a trip to Europe on which they were being taken by their mother, Cornelia said: "Certainly, my dear. Mrs. Moncreiff is a safe chaperon. Go and enjoy yourself." So Rosalie went—and that is how she happened to meet Montgomery Springer. "Monty" Springer was a former Harvard athlete; he was not only good looking but a good fellow in every way—even if his father was old Simeon Springer who had amassed several millions by executing deals which, while within the law, were so close to the line that it took a surveyor to run the boundary. Rosalie and Monty met at Naples and by the time they had reached Interlaken in Switzerland they discovered that they were in love.

When Rosalie returned home from her trip abroad one of the first things she did was to tell her little story of love and Monty Springer. Mrs. Walton listened in silence. If there was one person in the world whom she hated more than another it was Simeon Springer. Many a joust with sharpened spears had they ridden in the unfair fields of finance and each had felt the sting of the opponent's steel.

"Why, mother," cried Rosalie, seeing that Cornelia still remained silent when the tale of the little romance was concluded; "don't you approve? What do you object to in Monty?"

"Oh, the boy is all right," replied Cornelia. "I know all about him. Well, my dear, if you want to marry him you shall. I have never denied you anything you wanted yet." She smiled grimly; she was thinking of the row Simeon Springer would kick up when he found that his son wanted to marry her daughter.

And Simeon did kick up a row—an awful row. He called Cornelia all sorts of hard names and declared that no penny of his money should ever be spent to hang gewgaws on the daughter of "that old she-pirate, Walton." If Monty persisted in marrying Rosalie he, Simeon, would leave his wealth to an orphan asylum. Monty had inherited his share of his father's obstinacy; the discussion became exceedingly acrimonious; at its close Monty left the house. He went right off to Rosalie, of course, and told her all about it. But what did he care? They would get married anyway. He had enough money of his own to buy a suburban cottage; he would get a job and be the architect of his own fortunes. Cornelia, who had been listening, I regret to say, walked in on the lovers. "Don't you worry, children," said she. "Come around to-morrow night, Monty. It will be all right by that time. Your father is—or—temperamental. He'll get over it or I miss my guess."

Simeon Springer scowled fearfully when a clerk told him that Mrs. Walton was outside wanting to see him. "Show her in," he growled savagely. "I suppose, madam," said he, "that you have come to see me about my son and your daughter."

"I have come," said Cornelia, calmly taking a seat to which she had not been invited, "to talk with you about the Glendale and Hyker's Falls railroad. You want it as a link in that little P. T. & B. system you are building up. The X. N. & G. people want it as a link in their system. They have offered me three hundred thousand dollars for it. I will let you have it for two hundred and fifty thousand, but I want something to boot."

Simeon's features relaxed. The possession of that road meant success for his system—its acquisition by the X. N. & G. spelled failure. "It is a bargain, madam," said he, and then, anxiously, "what was it you said you wanted to boot?"

"Your son for my daughter."

"Madam," he cried, "you are trying to hold me up!"

"No, I am not," said Cornelia; "I am giving you the best of a business deal, and this is the first time you ever got the best of a deal with me, Simeon Springer—and you know it." Simeon thought rapidly. Rosalie was a nice girl, she would be rich and he had got the best of a deal with Cornelia Walton—that was a great, great thing; he could afford to be generous. "Well, take him," he said.

UNITE IN SEARCH OF SLAYER OF A PROHIBITION AGENT

Springfield, Ill., May 26.—(UP)—Federal, state and city law enforcement officers united today in a search for the slayer of Thomas Langford, 28, a federal prohibition agent, who was shot and fatally wounded late yesterday while guarding a gigantic confiscated still.

Three men are under arrest as a result of the shooting. Other arrests will be made, it was indicated, following that of the trio.

Loud talking within a hundred feet of where Langford and Ray King, his partner, were stationed, attracted the men who hurried to what they thought was a street brawl. Hardly had they reached the place where three men were arguing, and declared they were federal operatives, when a woman's scream was followed by a revolver shot. Langford fell unconscious. King, his partner, rushed the wounded man to the hospital.

Elephants Have Colds

Circus elephants often suffer from colds and the method of treating them is more or less difficult. However, one remedy that seems helpful at least is to make the elephant inhale boiling vinegar, which is done by half filling a bag with vinegar and hanging it over the elephant's trunk so that it has to inhale the fumes whether it wants to or not. The fumes are held to be quite beneficial.

CHICAGO FANS MAY SEE TWO BIG MATCHES

JIM MULLEN LEASES BALL PARK OF CUBS

OUTDOOR BOXING SHOWS WITH-OUT TREMENDOUS EXPENSE

BELIEVE THE CUB MANAGEMENT
WILL GET 15 PER CENT OF RECEIPTS

By EDWARD C. DERR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, May 26.—Boxing fans of the Chicago area today were given definite hope of seeing two championship fights during the summer with possibility of a third.

Announcement by Jim Mullen that he had leased the ball park of the Chicago Cubs on a commission basis for the summer months so that outdoor boxing shows may be held without the tremendous expense of erecting a new amphitheater, encouraged the fans to believe the champions may actually settle their titles here.

The fact that Mullen, who is foremost of Chicago's first promoters, had leased the ball park was confirmed by William Veeck, president of the Cubs. The terms were not definitely made public but it was understood the Cub management will get 15 per cent of the gate receipts.

Negotiations for a title match between Rocky Kansas, light weight champion, and Sammy Mandell, one of the most serious contenders, have gone so far that the fight is virtually assured for Chicago "some time in July."

Prospects are bright for a championship bout between Phil Rosenberg, boss of the bantamweights, and Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute terrier.

The third championship match, for which Mullen is negotiating, is a return engagement between Pete Latzo, newly crowned welterweight king, and Mickey Walker, the man from whose head the same crown was lifted last week at Scranton, Pa.

Definite articles for these bouts will be signed, Mullen believes, as soon as the new Illinois boxing commission is ready to function. The commissioners have been visiting other states where boxing is legal, to get ideas for the Illinois code, which they must frame.

They are now holding daily meetings and are expected to rule in the near future on applications of promoters to hold boxing shows. Mullen's bid for a promoter's license is believed certain to be accepted.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Eddie Farrell, young Giant shortstop, whose homer with the bases filled gave his team the first game of a double header with the Robins, 5 to 1. The Giants also won the second, 8 to 5.

The Cardinals got away to an early lead and held the Reds off in the late innings, winning 9 to 7.

Philadelphia and Washington broke even in a double header in which 49 hits were made. The Senators won the first 17 to 12 and dropped the second 7 to 6.

Pittsburgh evened the series with Chicago, making five runs in the sixth to win 5 to 2.

The Yankees extended their winning string to 15 straight games, beating the Red Sox in a double header 5 to 3 and 5 to 4. Ruth hit his 16th homer.

Cleveland took 11 innings to turn back the Browns, 6 to 4.

The Tigers made 20 hits off Blankenship and Leverette and defeated the White Sox 9 to 2.

Staging an eighth inning rally that sent eight runs across the plate the Colonels downed the Hens 10 to 4 and retained the lead in the association.

Rallying in the ninth after the Millers had led through most of the game the Kaws pushed over two runs and won 7 to 6.

Kolp held the Brewers to six scattered hits while the Saints got nine off Danforth and Gearing. The Saints won 3 to 1.

Hill on the mound for the Indians was in great form, the Tribesmen winning over the Senators 7 to 1.

Fears Team of His Own Section

Chicago—Dick Templeton, track coach at Stanford, fears a team from his own section most in the inter-scholastic meet at Boston, he said here, while giving his athletes a breathing spell. The team he most fears is the University of Southern California. Templeton figures his team is good for at least 30 points.

Tennis Games at Skokie Courts

SPEED VETS IN MEMORIAL DAY RACE

Comparison of Hoff and Nurmi

Charlie Hoff, Noted Norwegian Athlete.

Which is the greater athlete—Charlie Hoff of Norway, or Paavo Nurmi of Finland? asks Ed Hughes, sport authority. He says:

"Both of these renowned performers entered this country and won the applause that greets the feats of genius. They represent two different types of actors on the sports stage, their roles are as far apart as the poles.

"Nurmi is a specialist in one particular form of athletics—running.

"Hoff is a specialist in the pole vaulting—and a willing and satisfactory performer in a variety of events.

"Respecting versatility there can be no comparison. It is all Hoff. Yet for some reason or other, running heretofore has been held in higher esteem than pole vaulting or unusual attainments in the all-around event. The astounding record-smashing contributions of Nurmi are not to be forgotten, even in the fanfare of acclaim for the remarkable efforts of the popular young Norwegian, Charlie Hoff.

"Nevertheless, opinion seems to be divided as to whether Nurmi or Hoff is the greater athlete, and Hoff, a great showman, an excellent sportsman and an all-around genial fellow, is winning hundreds to his standard every day."

"How high do you expect to go in the pole vault?" Hughes asked Hoff recently.

"Well, I do not deceive myself that there is no limit. There is a natural physical limit, and I have it all pretty well figured out. I think I'll be satisfied to make 14 feet 2 inches outdoors, with a little bit lower indoors. I don't think I can ever do any better than that."

Hoff believes, despite the luxuries and temptations to soft living in this country, that the United States boasts the most encouraging conditions for athletic success.

Postponed game from last week

Elvig held the B. A. C. sluggers at bay throughout the game last night and pitched the N. E. Brainerd team to their first victory of the season, 9 to 0. They had previously lost one game, a close contest with the Y. M. C. A.

Elvig allowed but one hit, a double by Uddenberg in the first inning, after the first two batters had whiffed. After that he gave nary a safe blow. Only four men got on base, and none got past second. He was in good form and gave a fine brand of pitching.

H. Swanson, with a double and a single, and Howard and Skiba, with two singles each, contributed most heavily to the scoring of the North-easters. Albert Swanson and Jarbo furnished the fielding features, when Swanson knocked down Erickson's hard liner and Jarbo grabbed it out of the air before it fell.

AUTO RACE CLASSIC HAS 20 ENTRIES

$100,000 PURSE OFFERED AT THE
INDIANAPOLIS MOTOR RACES

38 CARS ENTERED, INCLUDING
SIX MACHINES OF FOREIGN MAKE

By GERALD P. OVERTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Indianapolis, May 26.—A score of speed veterans who will bid for a share of the $100,000 purse offered at the 500-mile automobile race classic here May 31, today were tuning up their mounts on the brick speedway.

Thirty-eight cars, including six of foreign make, will whirl away on Thursday on the qualification trials when each driver must attain a speed of 85 miles an hour or more in order to enter the race.

Already most of the little racing cars have made far greater speed than the qualification rate.

The Indianapolis race, which is the prize morsel of the American motor racing world, this year probably will see greater crowds but a slightly diminished speed, speedway officials said today.

Last year 140,000 persons crowded into the stands to watch the roaring cars go to 500 miles and indications this year show an increased interest in the event.

But the diminished speed will probably come from a smaller piston displacement than was used last year. When Pete De Paolo brought home his Duesenberg at the head of the field last year, he had averaged 101.3 miles an hour for the 500 miles. However, the piston displacement of that car was 122 inches, whereas all of the cars this year must have displacement of no more than 91½.

De Paolo is re-entered this year with two cars and he is undecided which to use. He has a Duesenberg and a Miller. He is trying both in the tuning up trials, but later may assign some other driver to one of his mounts.

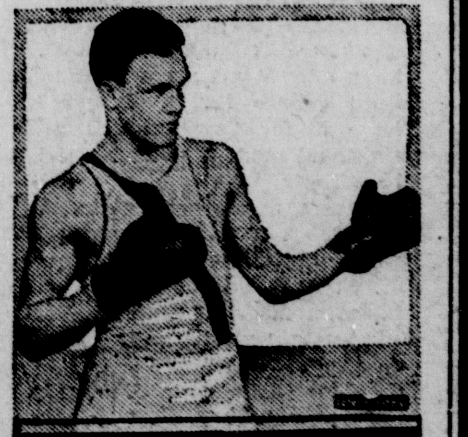

In addition to De Paolo, all of the other veterans of the race are entered. Ralph De Palma, who has driven in 10 of the 13 Indianapolis classics, will make a bid for the race. Other drivers include Dave Lewis, Harry Hartz, Bennett Hill, Earl Cooper, Harlan Fengler and three foreign drivers, whose ability on American tracks is unknown.

MUNICIPAL COURT RECEIPTS COMPARED

Fines as Imposed in Last Year of Mayor Con O'Brien's Administration
FOR THE FISCAL YEAR PERIOD

As Compared With That of Mayor Cain, For Year, Latter Shows Slight Increase

Municipal court receipts from fines imposed during the regime of Mayor George A. Cain's first year of office from May 1, 1925 to April 30, 1926, shows an increase over the last year when Mayor Con O'Brien held office from May 1, 1924, to April 30, 1925 of $377.

The increase, although not a great deal, is due to Mayor Cain's personal supervision of the police force in conducting liquor law infractions and bringing violators before the court.

When Mayor Con O'Brien handled the reins of the police department during his last year of office from May 1, 1924 to April 30, 1925 revenue to the city resulting in fines imposed was $3,946. For the fiscal year last year when Mayor George A. Cain took over the generalship of the police force, special attention was given to bringing violators of liquor laws into court, the fines imposed amounted to $4,323.

During Mr. O'Brien's last fiscal year of office there were 13 fines imposed of over $100 each while in Mayor Cain's year there were 16 fines imposed of $100. There were 28 more convictions last year than the previous year. During Mr. O'Brien's term there were 200 fines imposed while the highest last year was $100.

UPPER RIVER WATER LEVELS

Congressman Knutson Writes J. F. Gould Regarding the Same

LEVELS AT CROSS LAKE

Minimum Flow of 25 Cubic Feet Per Second Over Dam There

J. F. Gould, commissioner of game and fish with headquarters at St. Paul, Minn., is in receipt of the following correspondence from Harold Knutson, congressman for sixth district, regarding the Upper Mississippi River Water levels question, a copy of which having been forwarded to the Dispatch:

"At the conference held between certain members of the Minnesota delegation, Generals Taylor and J. F. Gould, and Major C. F. Williams, district engineer, an agreement was entered into that the War Department would hereafter draw off the minimum normal flow from the reservoir lakes. This agreement was had with the understanding that no amendment would be offered to the Rivers and Harbors Bill. We were glad to enter into this agreement because the chances for the Rivers and Harbors bill passing this Congress are so slight as to be practically negligible.

"In looking over Major Williams' records I find they are drawing off 25 cubic feet per second from Cross Lake as against 5 cubic feet at Sandy Lake, and I asked him the reason for this and he stated that you had told him that you needed a minimum flow of 25 feet for your purpose below the dam. If this is not correct will you not see the Major upon his return to Minnesota, and he should be there by this time, because if you do not need 25 cubic feet per second I feel that he would be willing to reduce the flow.

"Some of the best lawyers in Congress are agreed that the power and navigation companies below the dams could go into court and secure action compelling the Government to discharge the normal flow. If that be the law we have made what I consider a pretty fair arrangement, providing Major Williams' successor, who will take over the district work about July 1st, lives up to our understanding."

DULL PAGE SAVED HIS BARN

Lightning Struck T. L. Livingston's Barn While He Was Reading Magazine

RAIN PUT OUT ROOF BLAZE

Sparks Set Hay on Fire, Which Mr. and Mrs. Livingston Extinguished

Only the fact that he came to a dull moment of reading in a story in the Saturday Evening Post saved the barn of T. L. Livingston, Route 2, Woodrow, last night from being completely destroyed by fire when lightning struck it. Had he been reading the Brainerd Dispatch it is likely that the barn would have burned down because he would not have come to any dull reading in any of the stories.

Anyway here's the story. Last night Mr. Livingston was sitting in his comfortable chair in the living room of his farm house. He was reading the Saturday Evening Post and smoking his friendly pipe. A sudden crash was heard as a lightning bolt struck nearby. This didn't disturb Mr. Livingston any and it was not till he came to a part in the story that he was not particularly interested in, did he lay down the book, using for a marker his pipe. A suspicion that possibly his barn and not his neighbors was struck prompted Mr. Livingston to inspect his outer buildings. Upon investigation he found that his barn had been struck but that the rain had stopped the fire outside. Sparks from the fire had however dropped into the inside of the barn and flames were shooting up the walls.

Luckily a barrel of rainwater was near at hand and with the assistance of his wife who passed buckets of water to him he was able to save the hay in the loft and prevent the fire from doing much damage. Five horses and several cows which were in the barn at the time were rescued. The barn is 40 ft. by 60 ft. and the hay loft holds 60 tons of hay.

PRAISES FASHION OF HEAD BARED

D. F. Stacey Says He Wouldn't be Bald Now if He Had Adopted High School Style While Younger

IS ADVOCATE OF SUNSHINE

Believes in Disbandment of All Head Regalia

"Sweeping his hat from his head with a flourish and displaying his shining bald head, D. F. Stacey, West Brainerd, 78 years and a man of many climes is a great advocate of sunshine and the disbandment of men of head regalia.

"You know had I started going without a hat when I was young I would right now likely have a lot of hair," he grinned as he spoke, "as it happened I was almost as bald when I was 22 years old as I am now."

"When I came back from Central America to Minnesota in 1886 my face was the color of that," he said as he pointed to a brown mahogany desk, "summer is the time to get tanned up. It's great to go without a hat, it's even stylish, but now I'm too old to mix with the young stepers, so I must wear my hat."

Mr. Stacey is going on his 79th year but that doesn't prevent him from enjoying life and specially the work of his life, surveying. He is even now carrying on that kind of work and he is just as enthusiastic about it as he ever was.

Mr. Stacey told his life. He was born in Columbus, Pa., his family moving to Minnesota when he was eight years old. He obtained his education in schools in Minnesota and Wisconsin. When he was 21 he became a full fledged surveyor. During the years of 1884 and 1885 he was with an exploring party in Alaska. From there he went to Central America in 1886 with a surveying crew.

His life is filled with thousands of interesting experiences, enough to fill a book.

Seven times he enlisted for service in the Civil war, each time being rejected on account of underweight. He did however see service in Indian skirmishes at Oklahoma in 1869.

"All my ancestors were sturdy men," he said, "you know my grandfather lived till he was 110 years old. He also was completely bald with two little hairs beside one ear but he was dignified enough to wear a wig. No wig for me."

The result is ample comfort for 5 full-size passengers... with plenty of room to step in or out... room to stretch your legs with the utmost ease.

The seats are wider, the windows larger, the doors much broader. All features you'll certainly appreciate when you inspect rival cars of this price.

The center of gravity is lower—keeping the weight of the car down close to the ground—you get an entirely new feeling of security when you drive this car.

It is designed for a road speed of between 45 to 50 miles an hour—and engineered to meet the demands of such speed without wear or strain on the engine. The old fashioned car reaches its safety peak at 35—and wears itself out in a hurry under modern traffic regulations on the highways.

The Overland Six will turn in a forty foot circle. Rear springs are underslung and 52 inches long. 141 square inches of braking surface.

AMERICAN GOLFERS GET A GOOD START

THIRD DAY'S PLAY IN BRITISH AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIPS

BOBBY JONES AND JESS GILFORD WIN THEIR MATCHES EASILY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Muirfield, Scotland, May 26.—American golfers got away to a favorable start in the third day's play of the British amateur championship today.

Bobby Jones of Atlanta and Jess Gifford of Boston won their matches easily against little known opponents.

Some of the American hopes were dimmed, however, by the sensational golf displayed by Robert Harris, the British defender, who defeated Captain A. C. Pearson in a second round match, 6 and 5. Harris played some of the best golf of the tournament to defeat his opponent from the Royal and Ancient club.

Jones' victory came even more quickly. He turned back C. C. Aylmer of Rameleigh, 6 and 4.

Watts Gunn, Atlanta youngster, brought another victory for the American Walker Cup team by defeating John Wilson of Prestwick, 4 and 3.

Although rain had fallen again during the night play started today with the sun shining and the weather ideal.

Amateur champions of seven nations remained in the tournament. In addition to Bobby Jones, American champion, and Robert Harris, a British champion, the title holders of France, Australia, India, Ireland and the Netherlands have yet to suffer defeat.

Results of some of the more important matches today follow:

Arthur G. Tornton of Bruntsfield links, defeated Carl Bretherton, former Irish champion, 1 up.

W. J. H. Horrocks defeated A. R. Hall-Caine, Tolley's conqueror, 3 and 1.

Lieutenant C. Bumphrey of the Royal air force, defeated ex-champion J. L. Jenkins of Troon, 2 and 1.

Angus V. Hambro, a semi-finalist in 1912, defeated Captain R. H. Jacobson of Sunningdale, 3 and 2.

Douglas Grant, the Anglo-American, got safely through the second round by defeating Colonel E. H. Hambro, 5 and 4. W. E. Eansor of Jacksonville, Fla., scratched.

H. W. Dehoete of North Beerwick, triumphed over E. F. Storey of West Hill, runner-up in 1924, by 4 and 3.

One of the greatest upsets in the tournament came when 18-year-old Robert Pettie defeated E. W. E. Holderness, veteran of many golfing campaigns, 2 up.

Chick Evans, playing for the first time since the tournament opened, fell as an early American casualty, when J. Beck of England beat him 2 and 1.

Muirfield, Scotland, May 26.—Four members of the American Walker Cup team remained in the British amateur golf tournament after today's match play.

The quartet was composed of Bobby Jones, Watts Gunn and Jesse Gifford, each of whom defeated British opponents, and Jesse Sweetser of New York who defeated Francis Oulmet of Boston, 1 up.

MAY WHEAT ADVANCE

Chicago, May 26.—(UP)—May wheat advanced five and one-fourth cents on the Chicago grain pit today as shorts attempted to cover before closing out of the issue.

The market closed at $1.70¼. So anxious were shorts to obtain coverage that special train loads of wheat were bought both in Kansas City and Omaha, for Chicago dealers and railroads assured the shipments would be on hand by Friday. This move, however, did not affect the market.

Trading was extremely brisk throughout the session.

FAVORABLE DEVELOPMENTS IN INDUSTRIAL WORLD

New York, May 26.—(UP)—Favorable developments from various points of the industrial world induced considerable new buying and covering by shorts. A strong market with considerable breadth followed. From the point of view of actual as well as sentiment influence the advance in steel bars was no doubt of greatest importance. Steel stocks advanced nicely as a result of the price rise as well as the information that inquiries for finished steel are on the upgrade. The market closed higher.
